Things We Had To Live With

We didn't mind some things and did mind others, but we really had no choice in the matters. Complaining would only make the situation worse. Things like detention, reading period, and being restricted to study hall. Trying to keep up on cancelled ballgames and the rescheduled games that were cancelled and rescheduled again. We had to live with the football game that was interrupted for over an hour because the electricity was off. We lived with roads that were drifted shut, striking coal miners, and to top it all off, a cancelled spring break. Then there was the memorable day when Northeastern was the only school in the county open. All of these were things "Our Gang" lived with, just because.

Things That Took Our Time

Basketball practice, student senate, play practice and delivering citrus fruit. Things that took our free? time. We had term papers to write, exams to study for and homework to do. Lab experiments, reading books for book reports and regular classes took some more of our time. Then there were FFA soil judging contests, FNA hospital tours and Spanish class field trips. Loyal Jet supporters always found the time, however, to give their support to the many different sport-teams. All of these things took "Our Gang's" valuable time, but they added variety to our life.

Things That Made Us Laugh

A chuckle, a giggle, a really good laugh, until the tears came rolling down our cheeks. Silly things that helped us make it through the day. Watching someone slip on icy sidewalks (but it wasn't funny when that someone was us). Laboratory experiments that flopped and fire drills during tests. Newspaper predictions that Kenton Ridge would triumph over our Jets and snowball fight while waiting for the bus. Anything to break the monotony of the week.

The crazy outfits of the Variety Show and Fifties Day. Leaving somebody else the tray to take back after lunch or watching your Algebra teacher stand on his head. A chuckle, a giggle, a really good laugh, until the tears came rolling down "Our Gang's" cheeks.

Things We Cared About

That football game on October 14 was the one we really cared about. When the final gun sounded with the scoreboard reading 13-12 in favor of our Jets, nothing could have made us prouder. We cared about keeping up grades to stay on a sports team, keeping up grades to make home life peaceful, keeping up grades to stay off the restricted list, to be eligible for Red's tickets and to get into college.

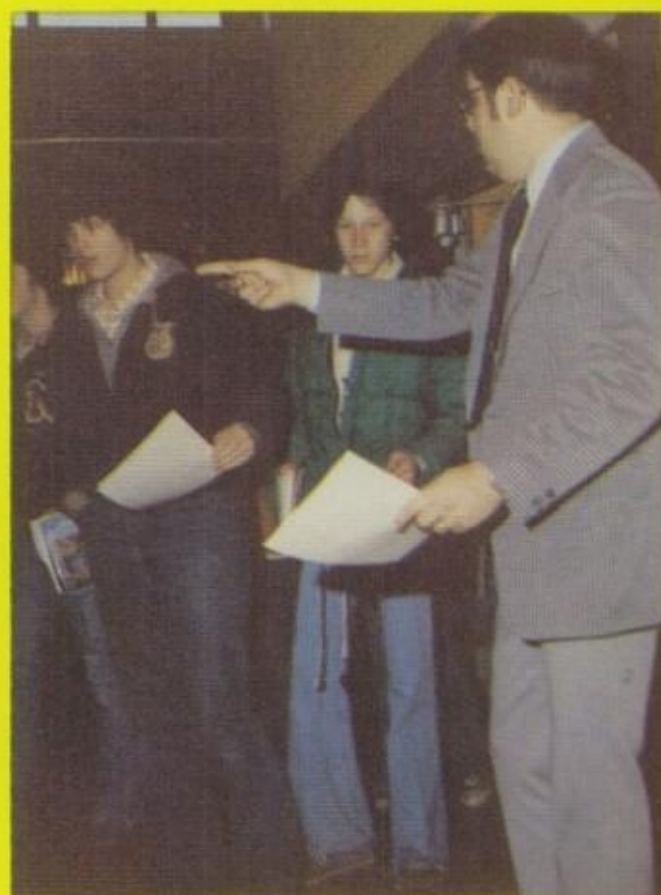

We cared about a Quarter Pounder on Friday night, the candy dish in the guidance office, and our varsity letter jacket. Most of importance, we cared about our friends. Friends to laugh with, to cry with, and share secrets with. Friends to grow up with, have fun with, and always remember. Special friends that made "Our Gang" unique.

Things That Classified Us

Seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen. The one short summer between classes could make all the difference in the world. Seniors getting out of class to attend college conferences and taking the required U.S. Government class. Selling magazines to finance the prom and taking the PSAT test classified the junior class. Shiny new classrings sparkled from the hands of sophomores as they studied for their driver's license. Freshmen took all the upperclassmen teasing and sometimes lost their way in the halls. The seniors took their place at the head of the lunch line while the freshmen took their's at the end. "Our Gang" may have been divided by class, rank, and status, but we were still one.

Things That Made It Typical

Same place, same time, same thing. To homeroom, to class, to lunch, to locker, to home. The things that keep school routine. Activity period on Tuesday and slamming someone's combination locker shut. Everytime you did your homework they didn't collect it, but the first time you couldn't do it, they collected it for a grade. Listening to the latest gossip at lunch and finding out what was going on in the next class. Ending class at ten til the hour and beginning the next class five minutes later. Having a test in every class on the last day of the six weeks and turning in a Chemistry WAS every Friday. It made it typical, a kind of habit, it made it school.

ACTIVITIES

This year at Northeastern OUR GANG participated in everything from the newly formed Thespian Troupe to FFA. Many clubs met on Tuesday mornings during activity period, however, each club was scheduled only once a month. Sometimes meetings were also set during after-school hours to plan special club events. Almost every club sponsored some type of fund raising project during the year. We were asked to buy Florida citrus fruit, "We Love Those Jets" buttons and everything in between. These activities took a lot of our time, but we didn't mind because they made Northeastern our school.

Northeastern Celebrates Silver Anniversary

This year marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of Homecoming at Northeastern.

Homecoming Week opened with observation of the traditional "Fifties Day," the girls turned out in knickers or long skirts, bobby socks, and saddle oxfords while the boys slicked back their hair, dug out their fathers' old leather jackets tugged their way into tight, narrow jeans and pulled on their boots.

An event new to this year's activities was Spirit Badge Day. Each club spent many hours creating a representative badge. A judging panel reviewed all entrees and a grand winner was selected. Honor's went to Northeastern's FFA.

Poster Day was planned differently this year. Instead of individual signs, each class made up its own. The senior class took winning honors.

Spirit was high on Homecoming Friday. Pregame ceremonies opened with the traditional parade of Queen candidates and the court. They were then escorted to mid-field where Michelle Phares was crowned 1977-78 Homecoming Queen.

2. Northeastern Royalty Michelle Phares and Doug Prosser pose beneath the banner proclaiming the 25th Anniversary.

3. Tammy McFarling, Scott Silvers, Jim Markley and Suzie Hunt are entertained by the popular songs of Sterling.

4. Jeff Hensley, Elaine Ray, Kim Palmer and Tim Johnson take a turn on the dance floor.

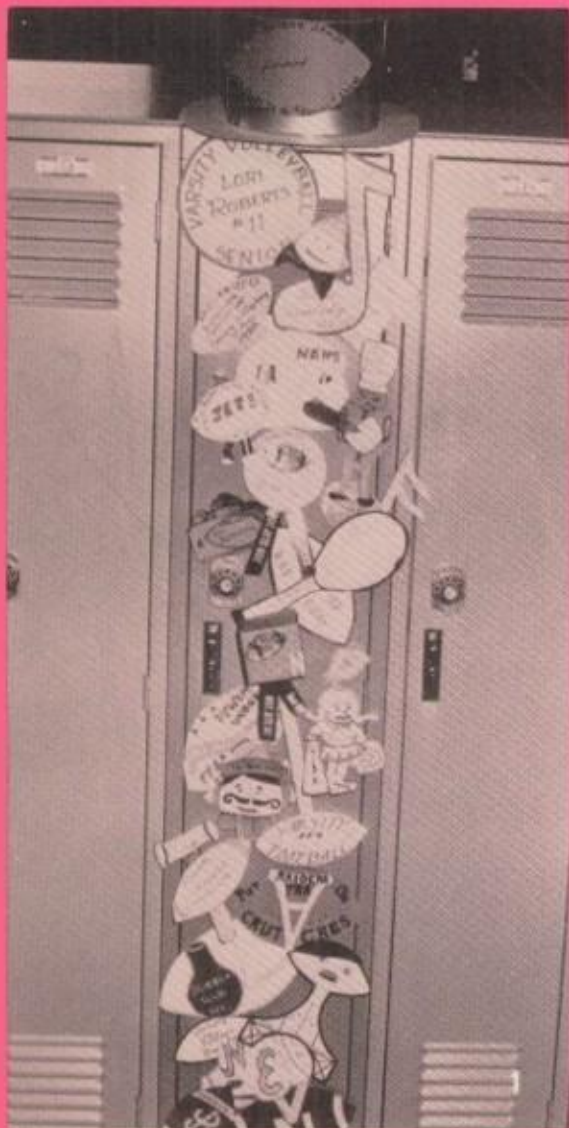

In keeping with the anniversary them of Homecoming, half time entertainment was provided by an alumni band composed of past band members from Northeastern's Marching Band.

It was an exciting evening in spite of the Jets loss to the London Red Raiders. The dance was held Saturday evening, October 1, 1977 at Northeastern. The rock group Sterling played many popular songs which the couples enjoyed. An archway decorated in blue flowers and silver tinsel served as a backdrop for couples getting their pictures taken as a memento of the big event. Climaxing the evening, senior Doug Prosser was selected Homecoming King. All in all, the 1977-78 Homecoming was one of the most successful ever and it will long be remembered as Northeastern celebrated its Silver Anniversary.

NEHS Marching Jets

Although their numbers were radically reduced, the 1978 Marching Jets displayed the traditional talent, pride, and enthusiasm typical of past Jet bands.

The percussion section began preparation in mid-July by attending a workshop at Otterbein College. Then the marchers began the grind of daily, seven-hour practices, a week before school opened.

While not on the practice field, the marchers were busy on money making projects. These included a door-to-door canvass for donations and sales of sausage and cheese. The marching season was hard, but it had its pleasant side, too. At the close of the season, the entire band was treated to steaks and free drinks at Ponderosa.

Variety-Talent Show Is Success

Posters advertising the variety-talent show promised . . . "a lot of variety, but little talent."

For the first time in several years, the students and teachers teamed together to form the student/faculty variety show. The Drama Club sponsored the night's production, and was in charge of screening acts for the show.

Ticket sales were successful and the production was performed before a full house. The 21 act show started at 7:30 p.m. on November 11 and consisted of acts ranging from song and dance routines, to the grand finale eight member all-male

Honor Society on the Move

The Northeastern chapter of the National Honor Society had a very busy year in the '77-'78 season. In the earliest part of the year the members sold student identification cards, as well as the metal Social Security plates.

The proceeds from the money raising events were used to help sponsor the trip of two honor society members to Washington D.C. Tammy Neer, president of the society and Linda Shoemaker, society treasurer were sent on a one week tour of our nation's capitol and surrounding points of interest. The members' tour included stops at such places as Capitol Hill, the Smithsonian Institute, the Washington Memorial and the Lincoln Memorial.

Upon their return, the two young ladies were requested to give an account of their travels to the area clubs which helped sponsor their trips.

Mid-year, the members of the National Honor Society acted as guides when touring eighth graders from the Northeastern district were being oriented for their freshman year at NEHS.

Next, the honor society held its annual induction ceremony on May 4. Eleven seniors, twenty-one juniors and honorary member Mrs. Cheryl Qualls were received through the formal initiation.

Finally, the old and new senior members assisted school officials by attending sign-up tables for the scheduling of all underclassmen.

French Club Sees "Opera Orange" in 78

This year proved to be very active and exciting for the French Club. They enjoyed many fun projects, such as a fondue party and a field trip to the Ohio Theatre in Columbus to see the "Opera Orange," a musical group and mime troupe.

These activities were made possible by such fund raising projects as the sale of French perfume by members of the club. To climax the year, the French Club held its annual banquet on April 8th, when a large turnout of members and parents enjoyed the French meal.

Spanish Club Celebration

The Spanish Club grew to a total of 45 members during the '77-'78 season. Among their many activities, the club started with a bake sale to earn money to sponsor their endeavors of the year.

In mid-December, the club hosted a Christmas party (Spanish style) which included an informal initiation of new members into the club.

On May 7, the club joined the Spanish Honor Society by holding a picnic at John Bryan Park.

Members were served tacos and various side dishes before they proceeded to explore the beautiful county-side in the brisk cool air.

Foreign Language Honor Societies

The Spanish Honor Society sponsored a bake sale in front of the Gold Circle store to raise money for the formal initiation in the spring. Nine new members were inducted into the Honor Society, bringing total membership to twenty. The Honor Society also took part in the annual Spanish picnic at John Bryan Park in May.

The French Honor Society held its initiation ceremonies in late spring and now has a total membership of ten. The group also took part in the elegant French banquet, which was served in several courses and covered many varieties of French cuisine. The dinner was attended by several of the area parents, faculty members and students.

Spirits Lifted by Senate

The Student Faculty Senate is a group of representatives from each grade at N.E. At their meetings they discuss areas in the school that could be improved. They also held the annual Homecoming event, which this year was the silver anniversary celebration. During the week they sponsored many activities including 50's day, poster day, spirit day, banner day, and cardinal and gold day.

Senate members spent many hours preparing for one of the most memorable Homecomings in the history of N.E.

Annual Staff Meets All Deadlines

The 1978 Annual Staff began its busy year in August when members visited local businesses in order to solicit advertisements. These funds, in addition to the money collected from November and April yearbook sales, provided the financial support necessary to publish the PILOT.

Staff members sacrificed a day of their Christmas break when a representative from Taylor Publishing came to give aid and instructions about the yearbook. Those who attended learned how to construct layouts, type copy, crop pictures and other techniques required to complete the annual.

Section editors and their assistants spent long frustrating

After their job was finally completed, the busy staff was rewarded for their dedication with a steak dinner hosted by the yearbook advisor, Mr. Kranz.

As Managing Editor of the 1978 PILOT, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to the devoted section editors and staff members for their long hours of dedicated work. Without their patience and complete cooperation a successful annual would not be possible.

I hope this yearbook will bring back fond memories of "Our Gang" in 1978 for years to come.

FHA Completes Active Year

The Northeastern chapter of the Future Homemakers of America seemed to have activities constantly up their sleeves. Hardly a month passed when the group wasn't planning a major event. Members who held offices were Sonia Smith, president; Amy Russell, vice-president; Diantha Brown, Secretary; Ruth Otstot, Treasurer; Amy Smith, Communicator; and Dona Bury, Parliamentarian. Assisted by home economics teacher Mrs.

F.F.A. Reaps Many Awards

Included among the most successful organizations at Northeastern, the Future Farmers of America completed one of its busiest and most productive years. In the fall, the FFA's projects began when members removed the old shrubs from the faculty parking lot and schoolyard. The project was finished when they planted new bushes during the spring to complete the landscape.

In December, the members held their annual fruit sale to raise money for the club. To highlight the year, two soil judging teams won first place in the

The Future Farmers of America again were the sponsors of the annual Children's Farm Day. The favorite event took place at the home of Sam Shuey.

Young students traveled from various schools in the district. At the farm, the children watched as a sheep was sheared, touched several farm animals, and rode some of the equipment.

The day was a memorable experience for the children and proved to be just as enjoyable for the future farmers who helped with the activities.

Things Click for Camera Club in 1978

The Camera Club, with the assistance of Mr. Chamberlin, learned much about photography this year. For the first time, their facilities included a functioning darkroom and club members could rent the camera equipment for their own use. To provide funds for their equipment and activities, the club pursued such money making projects as selling stationery and

Future Nurses Attend Open Houses

Under the direction of Mrs. McCoy and the leadership of President Cindy Leis, the Future Nurses of America was one of Northeastern's most active organizations. The group attended open houses at both the Community Hospital School of Nursing and at Clark Technical College. Several guest speakers attended meetings after school and during activity periods, informing members about all aspects of nursing and related professions.

In addition to informative activities, the FNA sponsored a bake sale at the Upper Valley Mall to raise funds for the purchase of a wheelchair. The sale was very successful and the chair was donated to the

Science Club and F.T.A. Have Busy 1978

The Science Club and Future Teachers of America gave many students the opportunity to become acquainted with these fields. Included in the Science Clubs activities was a field trip to the Center of Science and Industry located in Columbus. They also had a presentation from Ohio Bell and completed many scientific projects throughout the year.

The FTA started a new program this year in which members could acquire credits toward national affiliation. In addition, they had in-depth studies of teaching areas, schools and education.

J.V.S. Interest Many

The J.V.S. program is of interest to many students at N.E. The many programs offered provides an opportunity to learn an interesting vocational skill, and to make many new acquaintances.

The students which choose to attend J.V.S. are required to fulfill the government and English requirements of all students, plus those in their course study. The vast number of courses offered at J.V.S. includes a variety of one and two years programs. Those that attend J.V.S. may take part in the many extracurricular activities at J.V.S. and those at their home school. Upon completion of high school and the program of their choice, the student receives his diploma and a certificate verifying the completion of the course.

The programs at J.V.S. have provided many students with an opportunity to complete their education as well as a skill that they may participate in during the future, not only as an occupation but in everyday life.

"It Happens Every Summer"

The Thespian Troupe of Northeastern High School had a very busy year during the '77-'78 season. In the first part of the year, the 55 member club sponsored and assembled the Student/Faculty Variety show. Then, as a money making project, the group sold flower pots to earn funds for the play production

Under the supervision of Miss Marsha Wray and the assistance of Mrs. Luann Bean, the casting for the play began during the first weeks of February. The play, "It "Happens Every Summer" was a hilarious comedy taking place in a posh New York City magazine office. The stars of the play; Gloria Coble, Bob Demory, Annette Crider, Missy Howard and Chris Entler; put on a fabulous performance of life in New York and also proved to be excellent comedians.

The attendance for the two night production, March 31-April 1, was greater than anticipated. The total in extra funds which the club earned passed the $900.00 mark.

Open House Draws Crowd

On November 15, Northeastern High School held an open house for parents and concerned area residents. Approximately 300 people attended.

The National Honor Society provided tours for the night's event. During the evening, the choir and the band performed for the guests.

Faculty members provided and served refreshments in the student center.

Navy Band Is Big Hit Among N.E. Students and Faculty

On March 6, 1978, the U.S. Navy Rock Band gave a mini-concert at Northeastern. The band consisted of seven men whose music was overwhelmingly received by students and faculty members. The band emphasized such contemporary songs as "Baby Come Back", "Come Sail Away", "Boogie Nights" and "Staying Alive." As music roared through the gymnasium, many students got involved in a spontaneous dance session and were soon joined by several faculty members.

Both students and faculty agreed that the performance was a success and hope that the band will return for future visits.

Prom Held at New Location

The 1978 junior-senior prom was held on Friday, May 19. The unusually late date was not the only change made this year. Instead of the traditional Yannucci's, Springfield's Ramada Inn was the scene of the spring event. A buffet of food was provided and couples could leave the dance area and mingle by the outdoor pool if they wished.

Although the background was different, the entertainment remained the same as Bob Gray and his band kept the students and chaperones musically occupied.

Towards the end of the evening, the anxiously awaited moment arrived. As the ten court members were escorted onto the dance floor, everyone's attention was turned towards them. Tanya Brooks announed the 1978 Prom Queen and King, Elaine Ray and Tom Haley. The royal couple and their court danced to the prom's chosen theme, "You Light Up My Life."

After-prom festivities included dinner (usually out-of-town), and bowling at Northridge Lanes. Most couples finished their special weekend at John Bryan State Park on Saturday with several games of softball and volleyball. As usual, the prom was a successful highligh of the school year.

Sadie Hawkins Neckin' "78"

The Sadie Hawkins was held on April 15 and once again proved to be a big favorite at Northeastern. For the first time in Sadie's history, the Varsity "N" replaced the GAA as the sponsor of the annual event.

Couples arrived in their strange attire, ready to join in the fun and festivities while listening to the music of LODESTAR.

Events included the traditional wheelbarrow and three-legged races, best dressed couple, and the everpopular Mr. Legs contest. In addition to all this, a new attraction was begun this year.

The piethrow seemed to be the highlight of the evening, for Shari Townsend and Chris Entler. They were the two lucky students who drew the winning numbers and were given pies to garnish the faces of Mr. Murray and Mr. Woodworth.

In spite of their inexperience, the Varsity "N" proved their capabilities by planning another successful Sadie.

1. Kevin Jewett and Kim Myers race to the finish in the three legged competition.

Varsity "N" Takes Over Sadie Dance

The Varsity "N" Club assumed a new responsibility this year. Due to the termination of the Girls' Athletic Association, the Varsity "N" sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Dance in April. Although they were inexperienced in this area, the athletes planned the dance with a great deal of success.

The club also remained busy throughout the winter, maintaining and operating the concession stand during all home basketball games.

Let It Snow

The winter of '78 was filled with cold and snow. The snow had been building up all winter long, with Northeastern cancelling classes only four different times before the winter struck hard.

On January 26, a blizzard hit the Springfield area, dropping 12 inches of snow in 24 hours, bringing a grand total of 25.5 inches of snow on the ground.

Northeastern was closed a total of 13 days during the winter due to blowing and drifting snow, as well as other hazardous driving conditions. Much to the dismay of area students, parents and faculty members; a portion of the days missed were designated to be made up by cancelling spring break. This announcement came two weeks before the break was to occur.

1. School buses had problems.
2. Seniors enjoy the snow.
3. Snow turns the area into a blanket of whiteness.
4. Snow was one thing we had no shortage of this winter.

Senior Grub Day Has Zulu

The 1978 senior grub day began at 7:00 a.m. May 18, at Perkin's Pancake House. One of the strangest reactions received at the breakfast was during the entrance of Ruth McMillan into the restaurant. Ruth, our exchange student from South Africa, was dressed in the authentic Zulu costume. As more and more seniors arrived at Northeastern the oddity of the school was increased manifold. Visitors to the school were astounded at the sight of walking M&Ms, bunnies, ducks, clowns and various other assorted objects floating up and down the halls. The amount of participation from the senior class was astounding.

8. Baby Shari Townsend and Lil' Cheryl Turner have a dispute over one very sore dolly.

Varsity — Kept It Comin’

The varsity cheerleaders didn't always have a reason to keep cheering, but they still kept up the spirit.

The attempts made by the football team allowed the cheerleaders to salvage only one victory, against the rival Cougars. The basketball team tried just as hard, but were unsuccessful. During the two seasons, the cheerleaders did everything possible to boost their teams' spirits by making signs and posters that appeared in the halls and the football players' yards. In the final attempt against the Cougars, the cheerleaders presented each Varsity basketball player a boutonniere for good luck.

Active

Added to the extracurricular activities at Northeastern, the Football Block "N" was a great success this year. Members of the newly organized Football Block sold mini footballs, calender pens, pennants, "Love Those Jets" Badges and programs. The Block bought hooded sweatshirts from the Boosters Club as their first year uniform. Many members of the Football Block also aided the Basketball team by participating in the Basketball Block. In all respects, Northeasterns' Block "N" gave an unlimited amount of support and kept up their spirit through the athletic seasons.

SPORTS

This year at Northeastern "Our Gang" participated in sports from August to May. Many long hours of grueling practice and drills were put in by dedicated Jet athletes. Many of the teams were smaller this year because of the split school, however, the best possible effort was put forth. Many of the teams were inexperienced with only one or two returning lettermen. Another problem was the unpredictable weather. Practices could not be held because the schools were not open. The cancelled games had to be made up at the end of the season, so sometimes we played three or four games in one week. We will have many players returning next year that will have the valuable experience needed for a winning team.

1978 Football Season Held October 14

The most exciting game of the season was played on October 14, a night that will be remembered in years to come. This was the evening that Northeastern battled against their newest rival, Kenton Ridge, and won. After only four minutes of play the Cougars had already tallied two touchdowns. In the second quarter the Jets scored a touchdown and converted for the extra point. Still trailing at the beginning of the fourth quarter, the possibility of winning looked dim for the Jets. In the final forty-six seconds the Jets scored another touchdown triumphing over the demoralized Cougars 13-12.

Facing tough competition, the Jet squad knew they had their work cut out for them before hitting the field. With only one returning letterman, Northeastern's chief enigma was due to their lack of team experience and exposure.

Small Squad Hampers 9th Grade Effort

The Freshmen Football team record of 1-4-1 was not traumatic considering only eighteen boys showed up to compete in the league. Coach Reeb felt the squad played well for the number of people participating. Many of the players showed great individual talent, but as a team the Jet Freshmen were vulnerable.

Cross Country Squad Has Fun Season

A day at the Clarence J. Brown Reservoir means a day of fishing, swimming and boating to most people, but to Northeastern's Cross Country squad the Reservoir provided an excellent course for the two mile race. The reservoir proved to be the ideal setting for the Jets' home meets. For the Cross Country team practice meant numerous hours of seemingly endless roadwork throughout torrid summer months. Unlike sports demanding teamwork, personal dedication is essential for this unheralded sport. Requiring the boys to keep physically fit, Coach Wilson planned a rigorous training program to maintain the runners' pre-season efforts. The nine runners, better known as the "Klan," indulged in many pranks in order to minimize the monotony of running tiresome laps. Their favorite after school activity was depositing fellow teammates in the garbage dumpsters behind the school. This year's team was a personal close-knit group; where one teammate was found usually the others were not far behind. The most unique thing about this squad is that there are no Seniors; so their record of 3-5 should show great improvement next year.

Difficult Year For Spikers

With unity in team performance and competitive spirit, the reserve and varsity volleyball teams proved to be groups that were not easily beaten. Although the varsity record was only two wins and fifteen losses, the players put up a meritable struggle. The reserve team boasted a record of three wins and fourteen losses.

This year's competition was stiff, but the girls were rarely discouraged. The players kept a winning attitude throughout the rigorous season.

Mrs. Randall, coaching volleyball for her first time, felt that "One could not consider success in just terms of winning. High scores are not the only points to measure a team's ability by, growth and improvement throughout the season is also very important."

After being defeated in an earlier league game by Greenon, the Jet's victory of 15-10, 15-13 highlighted their season.

Jets Initiate Girls' Tennis

The first season for the girls' tennis team proved fair by earning a record of two wins and twelve losses. Although their record was not all that they had hoped, the girls showed much spirit. This spirit was tested through wet courts and cold weather which the girls encountered toward the end of their season. Practice was made more difficult, for the girls had to find their own transportation to Snyder Park where all practices and home matches were held. The Jets after suffering several defeats were victorious in two of their final matches. Having no previous experience at playing on a varsity tennis team was a great disadvantage when competing against girls with as many as four years experience. After much hard work, the Jet players showed overall improvement in their tennis abilities. Golf Team Shows Spirit And Drive

Finishing the season with a 20-15-1 record, gave the Jet golfers good reason to be proud of their accomplishments. Taking advantage of the winning season, several team members commented that "this year's season was one of the most enjoyable." Having only three golfers who had previous experience on a Varsity squad, gave the Jets a disadvantage. This became more critical when letterman, Gary Stant broke his arm during practice. This accident kept him out the rest of the season.

The Jet golfers managed to overcome this major setback and proceeded to place fourth in both the C.B.C. and the sectional golf matches. Their performance in the sectionals made them the first Jet golf team to qualify for the district match at Weather Wax Country Club near Middletown, Ohio. Led by outstanding golfer Warren Sears who won medals in the C.B.C. and sectional playoffs, this year's golf squad became the first men's team to post a win against Kenton Ridge.

Varsity Team Has Difficult Season in '78

Tradition tells us when you have a young team, your season will be one of rebuilding. During the 1977-78 season the Northeastern Jets had a starting line-up of three sophomores, one junior and one senior. Having no returning lettermen and only two players with past Varsity experience the young team may have suffered from the lack of qualified leadership.

A season without a victory can destroy a team or build character and determination for the following year. Credit must go to the young squad whose perseverance was obvious throughout the season. This was reflected in the fact that the Jets on several occasions held the lead throughout the first quarters of the game, but were unable to achieve the ultimate goal of victory. The experience gained this year can be the cornerstone of a stronger team for next year.

Jet Freshman Basketball Is Successful

Finishing the season with a mark 15-1, the Jet freshmen cagers under the direction of Coach Mark Klopfenstein, gave the school many thrills and something to cheer about over the long winter months. The little Jets lone loss come at the hands of Shawnee by a score of 42-44. They avenged that loss in very exciting fashion by beating the Braves 45-43 to win the Northeastern Invitational Tournament. The Jets were led to victory by Tim Johnson who scored 21 points,

Girls Earn Long-awaited Victory

Being only the second season for the girls' basketball team, they did a commendable job and bettered the previous season's record. Although inexperienced in this particular position, former Cross Country Coach Jim Murray assumed the responsibility of training and coaching the girls.

The team began practicing immediately after volleyball season ended, working on free throws and various play maneuvers. When the initial game finally approached, the girls and their coach felt ready and prepared to outscore their oppo-

The highlight of the 1978 season occurred during the final game of the year, played against Northwestern's Warriors. Winning the suspenseful contest in an over-time victory, the girls' basketball team finished with high hopes for next

Building Year for Young Jet Grapplers

The Jet wrestlers compiled a record of 2-5, yet attendance at the matches was consistently above average. Carrying only three seniors, this year's Jet wrestling squad was a very young team with little experience. Due to the lack of participation the team was reduced in size to the point that they were unable to have competitors in every weight class. What the team lacked in size, they made up in heart and desire to achieve. The weather also caused somewhat of a problem, for several practices and matches were cancelled during snow-days.

Coach Don Smith considered this a building year.

The 1978 wrestling season was significant as it marked the final year that assistant principal Don Smith coached the Jet grapplers. Twelve years ago Coach Smith introduced interscholastic wrestling at Northeastern. Over the years the program developed into a major sport. His teams won twelve league championships over the years. New regulations enacted by the Board of Education prohibit direct involvement by administrators in extra-curricular activities.

Boys' Track Team Suffers Setbacks

The Varsity Boys' track team seemed unable to get started on the right foot. Since the school population was much smaller than the previous year, the track team's number also diminished. This problem resulted in the combination of both varsity and freshmen squads into one group. The consolidated team participated under the direction of new coaches Dale Pittenger and Mark Klopfenstein, who hadn't had much opportunity to work with the team members previously.

In addition to the relatively inexperienced team situation, the weather did not seem to be on our side either. An extremely rainy season prevented many practices from being held outside so the team entered the season with few hours having been spent on the track and many hours clocked running through the school building. The rain persisted and resulted in the cancellation of a few meets.

Although the team had some misfortune this year, freshman comprised almost half of the squad so the future promises more experienced track men.

Girls' Track on the Move

The 1978 Girls' Track Team continued in the tradition of improving over the past years record. This squads 4-8 record represents the best ever compiled by a girls' track team at Northeastern. The inclimate spring weather made practicing out of doors difficult. This particularly hampered field event participants. For the first time runners were allowed to run in the natural indoor oval track also known as "Northeastern High School hallways." Under the direction of first year coach Bruce Fuller, the girls worked hard to develop their

Rain Dampens Baseball Season

As with all other spring sports, the 1978 baseball team was hindered by unusually rainy weather. At the beginning of the season, the players had to forfeit many valuable hours of practice due to the rain. Therefore when the season actually started, the team was not as prepared as they could have been under normal conditions.

The poor weather persisted and the team was forced to postpone game after game. By the final days of the season, make-up games were even rescheduled over and over. To add to their discouragement, the contests were scheduled close together which was inconvenient and tiring for the players.

Under the direction of new coach Doug Heskett, the team fared well in a difficult season. They finished the year by defeating Urbana, the CBC League Champions in a well-deserved victory.

The Softball Team's Season Is Successful

The girls' softball team boasted the most successful seasonal record of all other Jet teams for this year. Although plagued by poor weather conditions, the team's morale aided in their commendable league performance.

Limited outdoor practice hindered the Jet players, as more time was necessary to prepare to face their stiff opponents.

Boys' Tennis Has Young Team

One promising aspect of this year's boys' tennis team was the fact that the group included no seniors and only two juniors. The remaining eleven players were underclassmen, who will help to maintain the team's strength and experience next season.

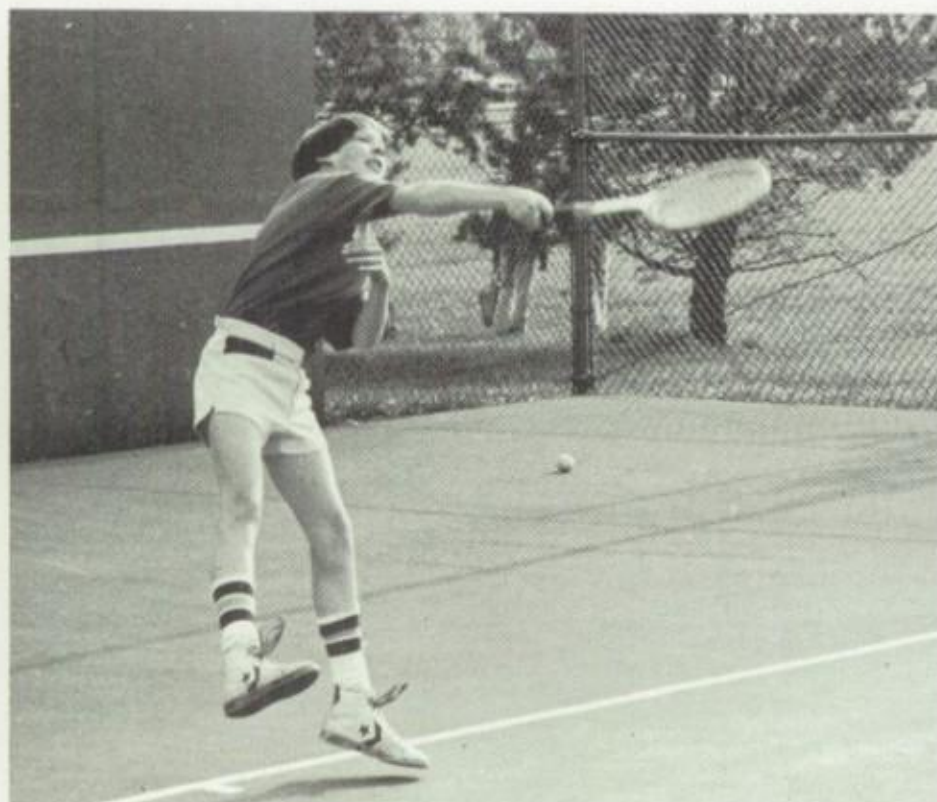

Because the team size was relatively small, Coach Hayden was able to give each of his team members a great deal of personal attention. Although the season's win-loss record was discouraging, the players were able to improve their individual performances.

The highlight of the 1978 season occurred when the team was victorious at their final meet of the year. They defeated Springfield South by a close score of 3-2.

The inexperience of both the team and the coach was one contributing factor to the seasonal outcome, but the future of the boys' tennis program promises to better this year's performance when next season's team can boast of a veteran squad.

1. Gregg Stoops anticipates an easy volley.
2. Toby Oberly jumps high in order to return

3. Sam Roberts puts everything into his return.

4. Todd Roberts displays a powerful backhand drive.

ARTS & MUSIC

The Music and Art departments of Northeastern had the benefit of many talented musicians, singers, and artists this year.

The band added to the spirit at Northeastern by presenting a half-time show during football games and providing a pep band for basketball games and pep assemblies. The Marching Jets also represented our school in the Memorial Day parades and participated in a successful McDonald's Day in May. The concert band finished the year by providing the processional music at Commencement ceremonies.

The choir also enjoyed a busy year under the supervision of a new director. They presented several different concerts throughout the year, including a selection of songs at graduation exercises.

The art department prepared all year for the annual Spring Art Show in April. A variety of projects were displayed, ranging from wood furniture to clay sculptures. Many different materials were used in construction, including yarn, egg cartons, magazine pictures, tin foil, construction paper, clay and water colors. In imaginative hands these items were transformed into the artist's own special creation.

Band Works Throughout the Year

The band, as usual, can boast of a long list of activities in which they participated this year. In the fall, the marching band accompanied the football team to all home and away games. They were a vital part of each contest, boosting spirit with their rousing music and entertaining the crowds during half-time. In addition, the bonfire and pep rallies would not have been as successful without the band's presence. One of the highlights of this active season for the musicians was their annual hayride, which took place at Michelle Phares' farm.

Sherri Hensley participates in a flag routine during a pre-game show.

The band's job did not end with the close of the football season however. The pep band provided an enthusiastic addition to the home basketball games.

When spring arrived, band members hurried and hustled to persuade family, friends, and faculty members to purchase tickets for the McDonald's Band Day. The event, which included city and area high school bands, allowed for half of the proceeds earned from tickets spent at McDonald's to be allotted to the various schools. Northeastern's band earned approximately $1400 dollars to add to their treasury.

To wrap up their busy year, band members spent a few days of their summer vacation marching in several parades which included Springfield's Memorial Day Parade and the Catawba Parade.

Choir Musically Entertains

This year the choir performed under the leadership of a new director Mr. Roger Clary. His extensive knowledge of music and his teaching methods helped the choir to achieve a well-balanced harmony in their productions. The group practiced diligently for one class period every day. These rehearsals became evident when the choir stood and delivered their melodic programs. Despite their diminished size, the choir sang well and put forth a tremendous effort at each concert. Their programs included the annual Christmas and Spring concerts

Outstanding Choir Member was Gloria Coble.

The Choir performs during the commencement exercises at which they performed a variety of songs ranging from conventional and folk to easy-listening, popular songs.

In addition to these activities, the choir sponsored a pot-luck banquet for their friends and families. For the evening's entertainment the choir members participated in a talent show.

In the spring, the group also performed at a school assembly and at commencement. This was the final performance for the senior members and proved to be a tearful event.

On the final day of school, the choir held its annual end-of-the-year party. Members donated refreshments and the group enjoyed a break in their school schedule. To add to the festivities, the Outstanding Choir Member, Gloria Coble was chosen by the choir members.

FACULTY

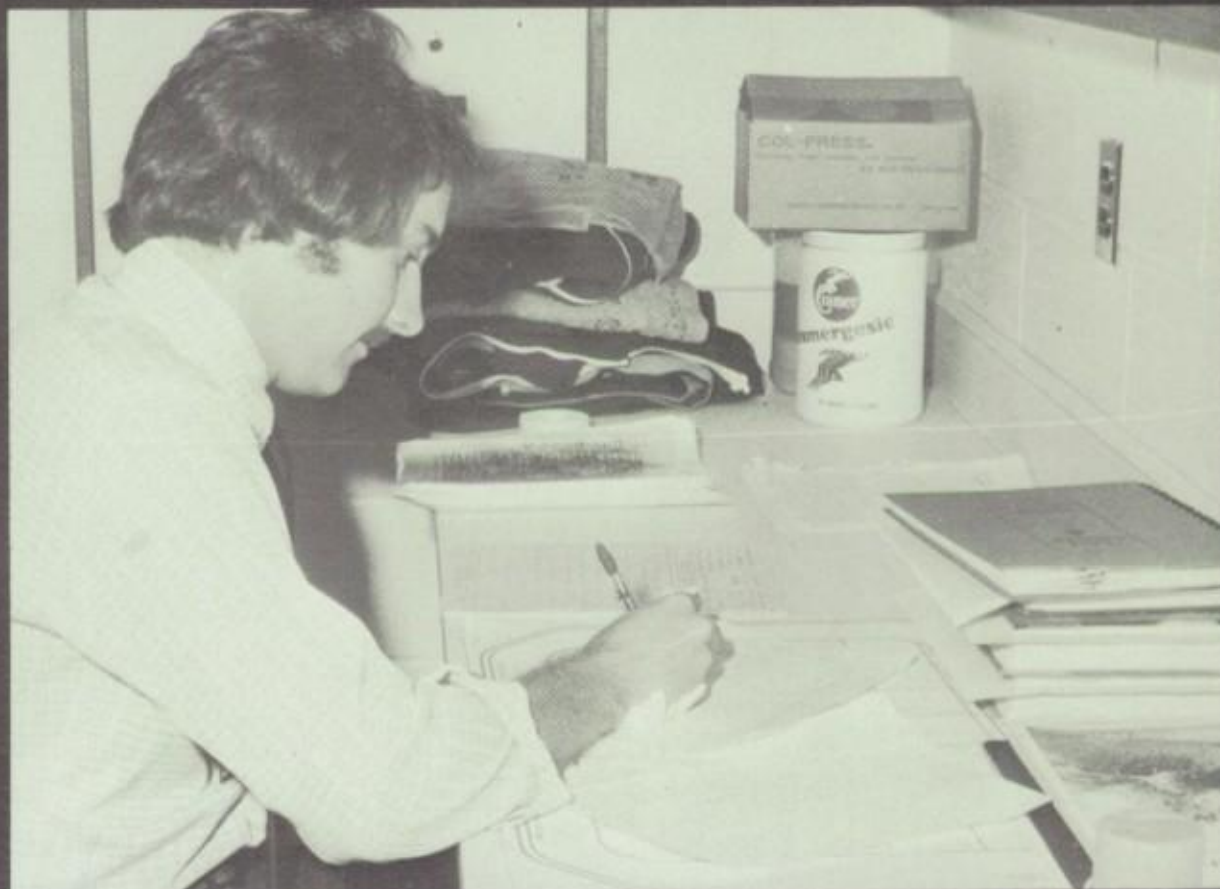

The older members of "Our Gang," otherwise known as the faculty, contributes to the atmosphere that makes school what it is. Often, the younger gang does not realize the extra time and effort they give to our school. Many faculty members give their free time to be advisors of clubs and cheerleaders or athletic coaches. They may also assist at athletic events by keeping score, taking tickets, keeping times, announcing, or doing many of the other necessary jobs.

Faculty members had to put up with many of the same problems in 1978 that we did. The weather played havoc with their class schedules, as we were sometimes running a week or two behind. We often complained about the time we spent doing homework, but it took the teacher much longer to grade the class's papers. When we look back, we will always have fond memories of our faculty, for all they contributed to make 1978 the year of "Our Gang."

SENIORS

A very important part of "Our Gang" this year was the 1978 Senior class. After eleven years of struggle they finally achieved the prestigious title of Senior! Among other privileges associated with being a senior, they were first in the lunch line and the first to be called to assemblies.

The seniors discovered they were faced with many decisions. The major one of course, was what they planned to do following graduation. To aid in their decision, they took the ACT test, attended college conferences, took courses at JVS, and anxiously awaited the prized letter of acceptance from their preferred college or university.

The beginning of the end was marked by the delivery of caps and gowns, and the annual Senior Grub Day that started with breakfast at Perkins Pancake House. Northeastern's halls were filled with everything from M & M candies to Harem girls that day.

With much anticipation, the day of graduation, May 28, arrived with sunny skies. Commencement exercises were held on the football field and the Senior class of 1978 became Northeastern alumni.

IN MEMORY

CHERYL CULP 1960-1978

Way over yonder is a place that I know
Where I can find shelter from hunger and cold
And the sweet-tasting good life is easily found
Way over yonder — that's where I'm bound.

I know when I get there, the first thing I'll see
Is the sun shining golden — shining right down on me
Then trouble's gonna lose me — worry leave me behind
And I'll stand up proudly in true peace of mind.

Way over yonder is a place I have seen
In a garden of wisdom from some long-ago dream
Maybe tomorrow I'll find my way
To the land where the honey runs in rivers each day
And the sweet-tasting good life is so easily found
Way over yonder — that's where I'm bound.

COMMENCEMENT 1978

The 1978 Seniors awoke on May 28th to beautiful sunny skies. Anxiety ran high as the hour of graduation approached.

As the seniors gathered together to prepare for Commencement, their nervous fingers pinned on collars and straightened crooked caps. At five minutes 'til five the graduating seniors lined up at the entrance of the football field for their final appearance together as a class. As they stood in line awaiting the first strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" they reflected on the past four years. Rev. Franklin M. Ackerman delivered the commencement address entitled "Your Future is Now." Finally the long awaited diplomas were presented to the 121 members of the 1978 Class. As the Class of "78" filed out they realized their high school days were finished, but for "Our Gang" this was not an end, but only the beginning.

The senior class of 1978 marches in to commencement accompanied by the band's "Pomp and Circumstance."

The graduating seniors stand together for the last time.

Some seniors fling their caps into the sky as their high school days draw to a close.

Jonda Hook receives her long-awaited diploma from Board Vice President Reed Jewett.

The 1978 seniors file off the field with mixed feelings of relief and remorse.

Graduation is a sunset and a sunrise — an ending and a beginning
It is a stepping-stone from the past,

with all its happy memories
To a future,
with all its hopeful dreams.

— JoAnn M. Daugherty

It is not always easy to put one's best foot forward To meet adversity with courage

Or prosperity and humility.
But to do these things is to take the first step toward success.

CLASSES

Cries of "79," "80," and "81" were the cheers yelled by "Our Gang" this year. The juniors anxiously prepared their schedules for their final year. They looked forward to being first in the lunch line, first to assemblies, and all the other privileges being a senior carries. The junior class conducted the annual magazine sale and diligently planned the "78" prom.

Sophomores ordered their class rings and finally received their long awaited driver's license. They gladly turned over their title as the "rookies" to the new freshmen class. The freshmen went through the trials and tribulations that every freshmen class endures. They had to learn their way around the school halls and wait until everyone else went through the lunchline before they could eat. These were things that gave each class its identity.

In Memory

Mark Palmer 1962 - 1977

HE IS NOT DEAD

I cannot say, and I will not say That he is dead. He is just away.
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there
And you-oh, you, who the wildest yearn
For an old-time step, and the glad return,
Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same. I say,
He is not dead — he is just away.

"Our Gang" at Northeastern should be very thankful for the tremendous assistance we have received from area merchants and businessmen. The support they have given us is proof that they do care about the different programs in our school. Our yearbook would not be possible without this valuable assistance. Unknown to many students, the yearbook is partially paid for by the ads bought by area businesses. They also support our athletic department by advertising in the football and basketball programs. Many local companies donated money or merchandise to make the Annual Spring Auction and Flea Market a success.

Often "Our Gang" does not take the time to say thanks, but we do appreciate the tremendous support area businesses gave us in 1978.

Consider Teledyne OhioCast as a prime source for centrifugally cast tubes of heat and corrosion resistant alloys. Alloys can be furnished in accordance with ASTM specifications: CF8, CF8M, HH, HK, HT, and others. Teledyne OhioCast also furnished Ohioloy 2300 Super Alloy, offering high temperature oxidation resistance with excellent creep strength properties, which permits engineers to design for use up to 2300 F. In addition, Teledyne OhioCast provides alloys made to meet specific customer specifications. Also, cast fittings can be supplied with all OhioCast centrifugally cast alloy tubes. Write for information today on standard grade alloys, Ohioloy 2300, or other specific alloys. Teledyne OhioCast, Springfield, Ohio 45502.

RIDGELY'S Strength is in its Personnel. Our policy of keeping ONLY people of integrity who feel that Satisfied Customers is our Most Important Product results in Superior Installations.

Nobody, BUT NOBODY, knows more about windows than the craftsmen at Ridgelys. Replacing those old worn out house windows or adding storm windows is done efficiently, quickly, and with no muss or fuss. RIDGELY'S sells integrity, comfort, experience, fuel savings; all those good things. Anybody can sell you the products we dispense, but nobody will give you more consideration with top quality merchandise and superior craftsmen installation.
